

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Products are sold by Key Automation to the Customer at the Key Automation list prices in force at the time of delivery. Key Automation reserves the right to vary its prices should changes in costs not attributable to it occur during delivery. The Customer undertakes to accept without reservation any price list variations occurring between the order and the delivery of the product.

The sale prices of the Products, shipping costs and payment methods are those indicated on the Site and are expressed in Euros. The sale prices of the Products include VAT but do not include shipping costs, which, if due, will be added to the total amount due at the time of purchase, in the shopping cart. Key Automation reserves the right to change the prices shown on the Site at any time; in any case, price changes will not apply to products subject to orders already placed by the customer. Under no circumstances shall Key Automation be held liable for any price changes.

The Customer can pay the price due using the following reliable and secure payment methods:

- PayPal circuit;
- Credit cards available on the PayPal circuit;

This secure and reliable payment platform offers a smooth transaction experience and ensures maximum security in your financial transactions. Please note that selecting PayPal as your payment method allows for a wide range of options, including credit cards and bank accounts.

Under no circumstances may the price of the Products vary according to the payment method selected. Key Automation reserves the right to change or implement the means of payment used by the Customer at any time, at its own discretion.

When the Customer sends the orders, the session will be transferred to the PayPal portal. On this site, the Customer may complete the payment of the price using his PayPal account, in accordance with the terms of use of the PayPal service subscribed to by the Customer at that time or previously. The price is debited from the Customer's PayPal account at the same time as the order is sent. In the event of payment by credit card on the PayPal circuit, the Customer is debited with the agreed price after having checked the credit card data and received the debit authorisation from the company issuing the credit card used by the Customer. Credit card data sent during the placing of orders are protected and are sent directly to the bank company handling the payments.

Currently, we only accept payment via PayPal. Please note that selecting PayPal as a payment method allows a wide range of options, including credit cards and bank accounts.

VAT

It is important to note that the price of our products already includes VAT at 22%. This inclusion applies to all transactions made and will be clearly specified in the shopping cart and invoice.

However, in the case of invoicing to a different country or to companies with a valid VAT number, the invoice will be issued without VAT included. In this context, VAT will be excluded from the total, in accordance with current tax regulations. This practice enables proper adherence to tax regulations and ensures consistency in handling international transactions.

We are committed to providing a transparent and compliant payment and invoicing process. We are available to answer any questions or provide assistance regarding payment and billing arrangements.
